Pamplin

Mrs. Henry Terry's week end visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Terry and sons, of Appomattox, Patrick Robinson, Jr., of Warrenton, Va. and his mother, Mrs. P. A. Robinson, of Charlotte C. H.

Mrs. Eddie Dickerson is a patient in the Farmville Southside Community Hospital where she underwent surgery last Friday. She is getting on nicely.

William Elam was hospitalized several days ago in the Memorial Hospital in Lynchburg for treatments and will undergo surgery while there.

Mrs. Woodrow Williams is still in the Virginia Baptist Hospital. She had surgery last Thursday and is doing nicely.

Mrs. Harry Nash, of near Pamplin was in the Virginia Baptist Hospital a few days for a minor operation. She is back at home and is convalescing nicely.

Mrs. Robert Nash has been a patient in the Virginia Baptist Hospital since Wednesday. She had surgery since then, and is doing fine and expects to return home next week.

Mrs.G.H. Hungate and small son, Darrell, spent last week here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Dickerson. Her husband came for them Sunday and they returned to their home in Roanoke Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Babcock and son, Eddie, were guests in the home of Mr.and Mrs. C. C. Ramsey Sunday.

Mrs. Walter Ransom visited Mrs. L.C. Elder last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Banton of Lynchburg, were visitors of Mrs. Wiley Richardson, the latter's sister, Saturday, and other relatives here.

We were sorry to hear that Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Suddarth, of Scottsville, Boelah Cobb's sister and brother-in-law's home, was almost destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon, Feb. 9 and everything inside just leaving built as Beulah described it. They barely escaped with their lives. It is believed that the fire started from a wood and coal burning heater.

Last Sunday, Feb. 16, two car loads of relatives motored to Scottsville to visit the Suddarths. Names as follows, Mrs. E. L. Pankey and Sandra, Mrs. Viola Wayne, Mrs. Ruby C. Jarrson, Mrs. Bob Warrell of Amelia, and four children, Mrs. Joyce Hipps and two children, Helen Adams, Perell Woodall, also including Beulah Cobb.

The Junior Training Union Class of Elon Baptist Church were entertained with a Valentine party Friday night in the home of their leader, Mrs. Wilson Fulcher.

Mr. E. N. Cunningham has been a patient at the Southside Community Hospital for several days.At this writing he is improving nicely.

Mrs. Wilbe Baldwin visited her brother, Joe Baldwin, in the St. John's Nursing Home in Lynchburg last Thursday. She found him some what improved. Friends will be glad to hear this. Mr. Baldwin has been a patient in this home for several months.

Un Forgiven

Lesson for February 23, 1964

Three people met together that afternoon. There was a crowd in the room but all we know of the story is just what these three persons said and did. If artists had not painted it many times it would seem very strange to us. There the guests were at the long tables, only lying down, not sitting up straight as we do. No women were guests, but according to custom the outer doors were not kept locked, and apparently any one could wander in. The guests were all barefooted; they had kicked off their sandals as a man here would remove his hat. Suddenly a woman, no respectable woman either, appeared behind the palace where one of the guests reclined, and began to act in a way which even then seemed more than odd. Weeping she knelt by his feet, tears, wiping them dry with her hair, pouring on his feet the ointment from a beautiful white flask. The woman's name we do not know, for Luke who tells the story was a gentleman; the host was named Simon and the guest was Jesus.

The Mind Of Simon

Why Simon had invited Jesus we do not know; perhaps from curiosity. He had not treated Jesus with even common courtesy, so we know Jesus was not the guest of honor by any means. Simon had an unphysical mind. At that moment he was thinking sour thoughts about Jesus and the woman. For he he had no kind thoughts. All he knew about her was her reputation, and that was all he wanted to know. He thought all those tears etcetera were just an act. He was ready to believe the worst about her, not anything good. For Jesus, Simon also had only contempt in his mind. The reason for this was that Jesus did not seem to despise the woman as Simon did. Either Jesus knew this woman for what she was, or he didn't. If he did, then he was wicked for letting her touch him. If he didn't, then he was a fool. That was the way Simon's mind operated; believe no good about any one.

The Mind Of A Woman

The woman did not say a word from beginning to end. If asked what she was thinking, she might not have been able to make a sensible answer. But Simon could not see what Jesus saw, that this woman was passing through a crisis. Her tears spoke for her. Tears for the wasted years; tears for the sins she had done, for the life she had lived; tears perhaps because she could not turn the clock back and begin life when she had first left the right road — who knows how long ago? Tears for her wounded pride, broken, for shame and for sorrow. She hated what she had been. But she had heard of Jesus. Just the word that he would be there had brought her to seek him.

The Mind Of Jesus

Jesus knew what was in the mind of Simon, and what was in the mind of the woman. It is said that Jesus "answered" Simon, though Simon had not spoken a word, only "talking to himself." He knew what he had in the woman's mind, he knew the tears were real, the sorrow were real; he knew why the woman cried; and though she had not spoken, he knew what she really wanted. Did she know, herself? We may not know. She wanted to be at peace with God. Happiness, yes, but above all peace. She knew; if only in a dim confused kind of way, that she had her herself off from women; for women despise such a woman more than men do; she had cut herself off from clean people, cut herself off from respectable society. But what she wanted was not respectability, it was peace. And so Jesus—who knew not only the mind of men and women, but the mind of God—said the healing word: Your sins are forgiven . . . go in peace. Simon was a Pharisee, a pharisee led sheltered lives. His sins may have been far fewer than the woman's. But Jesus could not say to Simon, Your sins are forgiven. Simon had no repentance. And God does not send his peace to those who do not want it.

Pastor Speaks

THE SECOND MILE

The greatest teacher of all times, Jesus Christ, says, "If anybody foces you to go a mile with him, do more — go two miles with him." Matthew 5:41. Phillips Translation. There was a Roman law operative in Palestine that permitted a Roman Soldier or citizen to compel another to bear a burden or carry some load a mile. Jesus took this image and used it to teach a great truth. In Matthew 5-7 Jesus is picturing the characteristics, the behaviour, the influence and destiny of a Kingdom man. So these truths would be demonstrated in this simple service. I call it the Royal law of Love, for it fulfills every other requirement. This is a good philosophy for anyone to practice. It is what one writer has called "life's extras." For in the practice of this law one becomes more like our Lord than at any other time.

Our tendency is to rebel. We do not like to have to do and do nothing more. This can be seen in management - labor relationships, and in peace talks and cultural world. We do what is right, or expected; we follow protocol but forget to do the little extra that gives life's opportunities and blessings.

It's on the second mile that one can really give a great witness to life's realities, and witness to the Love of God in his heart and life.

Imagine a Roman soldier's amazement as the bearer of his burden says, "let's go on another mile. I like this fellowship." The bearer of the burden can witness to something Christ has placed in his own nature. "I'd rather see a sermon than hear one anytime." Hadn't you? We will have the privilege of talking with another about what Christ means on this second mile. What His love and Salvation is doing to our own nature.

Sometime ago, as I meditated upon this verse, the following came to me:

SECOND MILE

Why should I go the second mile
When to others advantage it will be?
Why should I though God's child be a servant while others go fancy free?

When I listen to what Jesus has to say,
I find in His Word the purpose and the way.
His spirit, who lives always within,
Says, Beloved, to do it NOT is to sin.
So I obey His call to go,
The second mile, or even more.
I have found that it makes my heart aglow
With God's love, without any show.

And, too, I see the witness as more free
Of any motive, except for Thee.
So, Lord, my Saviour, my Lord, my all,
Help me to always to go the second mile.

Try practicing "Second Mile Christianity." You may be amazed at what the Lord will do.

Be in you church Sunday with your family.
